For Moms-to-be

Upon issuance of a Maternity Health Record Book, we print a Niigata Kids Sukoyaka Passport at the reception desk.

For parents who have a child elementary school age or younger

When you move to the city, or have a child, the city office will issue a passport to you. Alternatively, it will be sent to you the following month.

* colour depends on passport expiry date

The "Niigata Kids Sukoyaka Passport" is for Moms-to-be or parent(s) whose children are elementary school age or younger, and entitles the holder to discounts on products and services provided by participating local businesses.

※This information was updated November 30, 2014.

Every year, in the month of November we run a campaign to stop child abuse.
Child abuse is a serious problem of society and should be prevented.

If there is a child you think is being abused...

If you have concerns about pregnancy or raising children...

If there is a parent who is having trouble raising children...

We wear an orange ribbon to show our dedication to stopping child abuse.

We combined the image of fast-growing bamboo shoots (TAKENOKO) with a toddler who grows bigger and bigger every day to bring you Tacchan, a mascot for the children of Chuo Ward.

The name of the magazine comes from the three meanings of TACCHI:

① From crawling to TACCHI (standing). ② Parents high TACCHI (high fiving) one another because they're so happy to see their child growing up. ③ The TACCHI (embrace) shared by a child and his/her parents.

We want to enhance the warm and fun parts of raising a child in the households and families of Chuo Ward. We hope you enjoy reading, and we're counting on your support!

His favourite:
bamboo leaves!

He can really crawl around!
